Peace Like A River

The song, "When Peace Like A River," was written by Horatio A. Spafford after he and his wife lost their four daughters at sea during a boat collision and then sinking. Years later, Spafford and his wife traveled back out to sea and he's said to have written this song as they were passing over the approximate area where his girls had died.

Each of us is subject to our own trials and tribulations in this life whether it be a loved one lost too soon, a financial hardship, a broken relationship, or a mental illness. How can we sing and believe the words, "it is well with my soul" at times when it feels anything but? How can we walk through the "valley of the shadow" when it feels like another trial or loss might be the one that finally breaks us?

It's at times such as these that we must trust God as our all-knowing, all-loving Shepherd. We may not see where He's leading us and maybe we can't possibly understand how we can follow Him through the fiery trial in front of us, but he promises that He will comfort us, He will guide us and He will be with us. "And the peace of God which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus." Philippians 4:7

*W*hen peace, like a river, Attendeth my way,
When sorrows like sea billows roll; Whatever my lot,
Thou hast taught me to say,
It is well, It is well with my soul.
