Today's Prayer

Thank You, Father, that in Christ all things are made new. Thank You that in Christ, old things have passed away, and I have been made a new creation, in HIM. Help me to truly understand that this amazing truth is not only something for the future but something that took place the moment I believed in Christ as Savior. I pray that I may come to a deeper understanding of what it is to be a part of a new, and heavenly creation in Christ.

In Jesus' Name, Amen

This is My Destiny

All I was I lay aside now dead to sin to God Alive!

Born again into a new identity!

Once asleep to God in sin, now wakened by the blood and cleansed.

Born again to be who He called me to be.

All I have I lay aside, run the race to gain the prize for the sake of knowing Jesus Christ in me. I cannot yet fully see I'm truly called to be, but knowing Christ reveals my hope and destiny.

He calls me child! He calls me to His side eternally.

He calls what once was lost now found, once bound to sin—now free.

He calls me holy! Calls me righteous. By the blood redeemed.

He calls me overcomer, crowned with victory.

This is my destiny.

What once bound me is no more. What was stolen is restored, by the resurrection power of my King.

What was old has been new; lies and doubts replaced by truth.

What was silent now resounds, "I am redeemed."

He calls me servant, calls me warrior; calls me royalty.

He calls me resurrected one! He calls me His redeemed.

He calls me higher, calls me for beyond my wildest dream.

He calls my heart to come and be all He can see.

He calls me chosen. New creation. Trophy of His grace.

He gives me strength to fight the fight and run to win the race.

He tells me he delights in me while singing over me.

Accepting me as His beloved Child. This is my destiny!

If anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come:

The old has gone,
the new is here!

2 Corinthians 5:17 (NIV)
