Psalm 25:5-Lead Me In Thy Truth and Teach Me

Psalm 25 is a prayer for God's guidance, written by King David as he was living in the midst of uncertain times.

Much like David, we can find ourselves in a state of confusion or uncertainty, in circumstances that show us that we need guidance and direction. Many of us look around and see all that is going wrong in the world and are wondering what we can possibly do to find solutions or make a constructive difference.

That's why David cries out to God, "Lord, lead me in your truth and teach me." He's asking God to instruct him on how to live, admitting that he doesn't know. For many of us today, what we need to be doing most is praying, like David, for God to teach us. Praying that God would lead us in his truth and help us be discerning. We also need to follow David's lead in humbly admitting when we don't have all the answers.

Even when we fall short, God is patient with us. He wants to teach you, if you will be receptive. If you will listen to him, and heed his word, and seek the wisdom of those who've gone before.

May we all be teachable and may we all learn to depend more and more on the Lord, our great Teacher, so that we may experience the wonders of close friendship with him through our Lord Jesus Christ and by his Spirit.

We need to seek the Lord and ask him regularly to lead us in his truth and also to keep us on the right path.

PSALM 25:5

LEAD ME
— IN THY TRUTH, — AND TEACH ME.
